

It is about time that the Morse requirement was eliminated from Ham Radio. Most new licensee are interested in voice communication and have no interest in code. It would be nice if the US was one of the leaders in the change.

Keeping the requirement only insures a smaller and smaller number of people using the HF bands.

Please approve the change.